

Ready Confetti

Dear Justin,

The night before preschool is exciting and fun.
There are always so many things to be done.

Your clothes are ready. Your backpack is too.
Your classroom is full of fun things you will do.

Many questions go through your mind,
All types of thoughts of every kind.

But sometimes we all get the jitters down deep.
And that makes it hard to fall fast asleep.

So here is some magic confetti for you,
Full of promises for the whole year through.

Tonight when you lay down your head,
Sprinkle some under your pillow in bed.

The confetti will help you sleep through the night
And you will wake up in the morning fresh and bright.

I'll sprinkle the confetti under my pillow, too.
Because I am so excited to see you!

Sweet Dreams, Preschooler!
