

A Storyboard Of Growth

Lily Bass

Like tiny sea stars finding their place in the tide, a child grows brighter with every wave of love and discovery.

We are honoured to share with you a special keepsake we've lovingly created: "A Storyboard of Growth." This reflective document captures the incredible journey your child has taken over the past 6 months—moments of discovery, laughter, connection, and wonder.

Through photos, observations, family contributions, and creative touches, this storyboard celebrates your child's unique milestones and highlights their development across key areas of learning.

It is also a way for us to document how your child's learning links with the Early Years Learning Framework (EYLF), all while staying true to what makes your child beautifully individual.

We deeply value the partnership we've built with your family. Your insights, stories, and love have helped shape the experiences that your child has enjoyed while in our care. We hope this storyboard brings you joy, sparks reflection, and becomes a cherished part of your family's story.

Thank you for trusting us to be part of your child's first learning journey. It has been a privilege to witness and support their growth.

Milestone Snapshots

At 8 months old, Lily is blossoming into a curious and expressive little explorer. She shows a growing confidence in sitting independently and may be beginning to crawl or shuffle to reach nearby toys—especially the ones that make noise or light up. Lily responds eagerly to familiar voices and smiles brightly when her name is called, showing strong social connections and a sense of belonging. She enjoys clapping, babbling strings of sounds like “ba” or “da,” and engaging in simple games like peekaboo, where her laughter shines.

Summary Of My Learning

- Lily is developing strong connections with familiar adults, smiling and responding warmly to her name (Outcome 1: Children have a strong sense of identity).
- She explores her environment with curiosity, using her senses to feel, see, and hear what's around her (Outcome 4: Children are confident and involved learners).
- Lily enjoys babbling, clapping, and joining in simple back-and-forth games like peekaboo (Outcome 5: Children are effective communicators).
- She is building physical strength by sitting independently and reaching out for toys with control (Outcome 3: Children have a strong sense of wellbeing).
- Lily shows delight in shared experiences with others, building early social skills through play and eye contact (Outcome 2: Children are connected with and contribute to their world).

Watching Lily grow over these past months has been an absolute delight. Her gentle smile, curious hands, and joyful babble have filled our room with warmth and wonder. From her first attempts at sitting up to the way she lights up during peekaboo, Lily has shown such a beautiful spark for learning and connecting with others. It's been a privilege to support her journey, share special moments, and witness the small (yet mighty!) steps that mark her development. I can't wait to see all the things she'll discover next.

"What have you noticed about your child's growth this year?"

Over the past 6 months, we've been amazed at how much Lily has grown and changed. It feels like just yesterday she was a tiny newborn in our arms, and now she's sitting up, babbling, and reaching for everything with such curiosity.
