

Kids Say The Darndest Things!

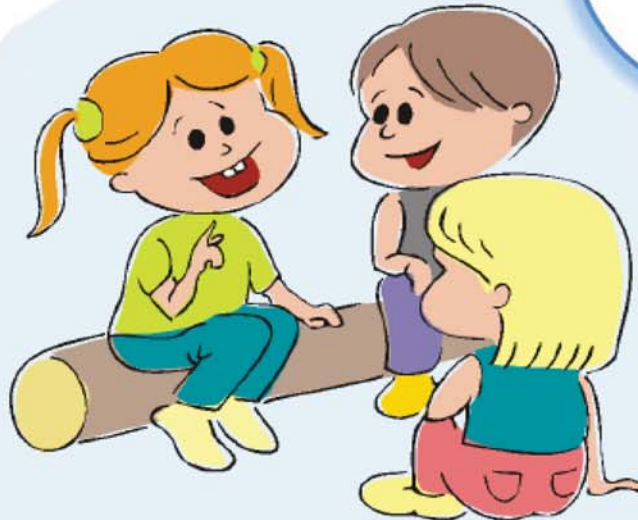

Name of Child: Ella Who Was Involved: Ella and Amelia Date: Jun 28, 2013

There are many times, when conversing with children we get an opportunity to listen to the light hearted and funny comments they may make during a chat or when observing something. Children are honest, have strong opinions, talk before thinking and make us laugh. It's important that we record these oral accounts, which will enable us to gain an understanding of how these little young minds work.

Amelia: Hey it looks like you got a baby in your tummy.

Ella: No, not a baby in my tummy, I have boobies just like my mummy.

Amelia: My mummy has boobies too. Look we are like our mummy.

Briefly Describe The Situation/Experience:

Ella and Amelia were both in the sand pit playing together, using the kitchen equipment that was there. Ella sat down in the sand pit and began filling up her top with sand. Once her top was filled she folded it over to create bulging stomach. That's when this conversation with Amelia took place.

EYLF Learning Outcomes:

L/O 1: Children have a strong sense of identities.
L/O 5: Children are effective communicators.

Parent Comments:

Yes, we refer to our breasts as "boobies". Ella seems very interested in the human body lately.
