

Instead of saying 'good job' when kids do well on test/exams, you can say:

- 1. You worked really hard to understand the material. Your hard work and effort paid off.
- 2. Look at that! You spend a lot of time studying and your test score shows it.
- 3. Wow! You got 'X' questions out of 'X' correctly. How did you do that?
- 4. Your grade improved compared to your last test score. What strategies did you use this time?
- 5. Wow! You answered all the questions correctly. How does that make you feel?
