

The first little pig thought that straw would make a good house.