

What is a Cell?

All living things are made of cells. Cells are so small that you cannot see them with your eyes. Cells help you grow. They are the building blocks of your muscles, bones and other organs.

