

What is a Muscle?

Muscles help to move blood through out all your body. They also help you move, jump, run and many other activities. You can control some muscles, while others, like your heart, do their jobs without you even thinking about it. Muscles are made of an elastic tissue kind of like a rubber band.

