

Christmas In UK

In many town churches in the United Kingdom the custom on Christmas Eve is to ring the largest bell four times in the hour before midnight. Then at midnight, all the bells in the church are rung in celebration of the arrival of Christmas.